If freight trains come through your town, so did passenger trains til the '60s.

Let's get Kentucky, Tennessee, and Amtrak to bring back our passenger service!

KYPath proposes Amtrak operate a new "Bluegrass Line" on existing track Cincinnati to Atlanta, with stops in Lexington, Knoxville, and 18 other towns.

Day & night trains should run each way each day, quick as driving. Amtrak coach tickets are competitive with the cost of gas.

Email kypath@sdf.org where you'd ride the Bluegrass line, why, and how often

Tell Amtrak who their riders will be!

What can you do on a train?

- Sleep, enjoy views, walk, eat & drink, read, chat
- Travel if you can't or don't want to drive
- Visit family, adventure, carry-on your bike

Where will The Bluegrass connect?

- In Cincinnati, Amtrak's New York to Chicago Cardinal train (Philadelphia, Washington, Charlottesville, Charleston WV, Indianapolis)
- In Atlanta, Amtrak's New York to New Orleans Crescent train (Charlotte, Birmingham)
- In Winchester, the proposed restored EK line (Irvine, Beattyville, Jackson, Hazard)
- From Cincinnati, Knoxville, and Atlanta, fly or take Greyhound or charter buses

Amtrak & state support follow local support.

Ask your legislator, mayor, and fiscal court to send letters of support for the Bluegrass line to kypath@sdf.org
